

*Looking for something for your 2nd-6th grader
to do on days when CPS
is not in session?*

*Consider a series of writing conferences hosted by the Missouri Writing Project on the MU Campus in Townsend Hall. Each day will offer something different but both will involve lots of time to write,
campus exploration, games, literature,
celebration, food and friends!*

To BE HELD 8:30-4:30

February 10th 2012
February 24th 2012

WRITING YOUR WORLD!

We hope your child can join us as we discover how writers use composition to report on and create the world. Students will create a variety of writing pieces. Each day will end with a celebration where each student may read something he or she authored. The cost is $40 per day or a one-time $75 registration fee for both sessions. This covers all materials, a T-shirt and food and drinks for the day. Students will be placed in groups based on grade and will be assigned a teacher who will escort them throughout the conference as they attend various sessions taught by lead writing instructors from The Missouri Writing Project. Space is limited. To register email the following information to Danielle Johnson at dajohnso@columbia.k12.mo.us:

- Child's name, grade and t-shirt size*
 - Dates requested*
- Parent contact including email and phone number*
 - Any relevant health information*

When registration is confirmed you will be prompted with payment instructions.